

§ 904.401 Written warning as a prior offense.

A written warning may be used as a basis for dealing more severely with a subsequent offense, including, but not limited to, a violation of the same statute or an offense involving an activity that is related to the prior offense.

§ 904.402 Procedures.

(a) Any person authorized to enforce the laws listed in § 904.1(c) who finds a violation of one of the laws may issue a written warning to a violator in lieu of other law enforcement action that could be taken under the applicable statute.

(b) The written warning will:

- (1) State that it is a "written warning";
- (2) State the factual and statutory or regulatory basis for its issuance;
- (3) Advise the violator of its effect in the event of a future violation; and
- (4) Inform the violator of the right of review and appeal under § 904.403.

(c) NOAA will maintain a record of written warnings that are issued.

(d) If, within 120 days of the date of the written warning, further investigation indicates that the violation is more serious than realized at the time the written warning was issued, or that the violator previously committed a similar offense for which a written warning was issued or other enforcement action was taken, NOAA may withdraw the warning and commence other civil or criminal proceedings.

(e) For written warnings under the Magnuson Fishery Conservation and Management Act or the Northern Pacific Halibut Act of 1982, the enforcement officer will note the warning, its date, and reason for its issuance on the permit, if any, of the vessel used in the violation. If noting the warning on the permit of the vessel is impracticable, notice of the written warning will be served personally, or by registered or certified mail, return receipt requested, on the vessel's owner, operator, or designated agent for service of process, and such service will be deemed notation on the permit.

§ 904.403 Review and appeal of a written warning.

(a) If a person receives a written warning from an enforcement agent, the person may, within 90 days of receipt of the written warning, seek review by the appropriate NOAA Regional Attorney. The request must be in writing and must present the facts and circumstances that explain or deny the violation described in the warning. The Regional Attorney will review the information and notify the person of his or her decision.

(b) If a person receives a written warning from a Regional Attorney or staff attorney, or receives a decision from a Regional Attorney affirming a written warning, the person may appeal the warning or decision to the NOAA Assistant General Counsel for Enforcement and Litigation. The appeal must be brought within 30 days of receipt of the warning or decision from the Regional Attorney. The Assistant General Counsel for Enforcement and Litigation may, in his or her discretion, affirm, expunge, or modify the written warning and will notify the person of the decision. The decision constitutes the final agency action.
